Working with the basic elements of earth, water, air and fire, skilled artisans create timelessly beautiful dinnerware, bakeware, flowerpots and serving pieces that can be enjoyed and cherished for generations.

Some designs are subtle - others are more striking and exuberant - but what they all have in common is an underlying belief that humble, everyday objects have an important place in our lives and homes.

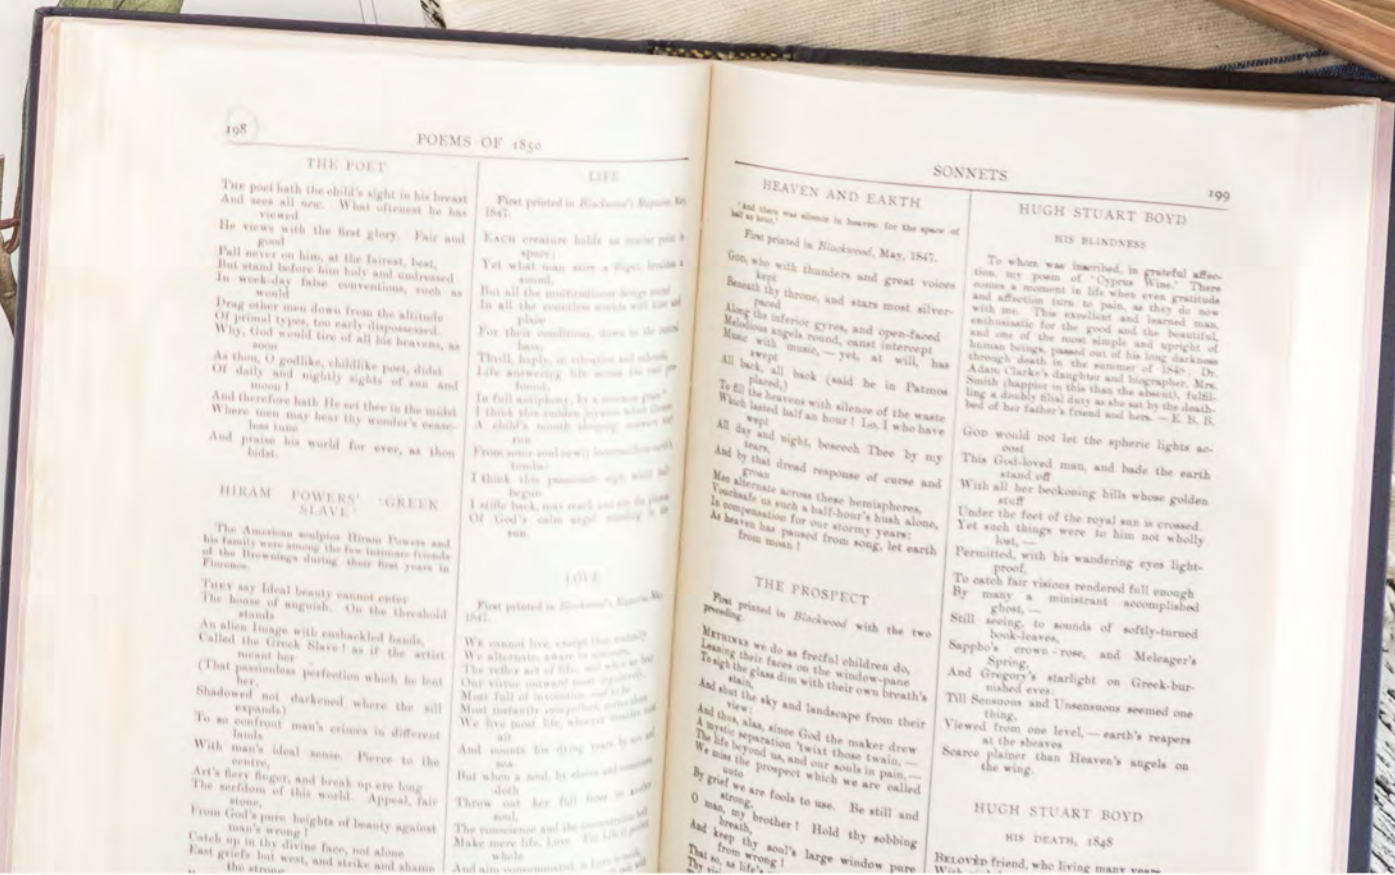

SIMPLE · BEAUTIFUL · LIFE

There is a simplicity to the things in life that bring us all together. That spirit is consistently felt in each handcrafted item that we create, from the smallest dish to the largest mixing bowl. Every piece carries story after story of not just our history, but of the history of you and your family.

DAILY INSPIRATION

At Stoneware & Co., we have this romantic notion that people still want to be inspired.

Our aesthetic is authentic and approachable. We gain inspiration from the legacy that our artists have passed down from generation to generation, since our humble beginnings on the banks of the Ohio River in 1815.

It is the story of our community.

We believe there is a soul to our product -
Not stamped out by some machine, but made by a human being. We believe that these humble objects have a place in your life.

They're important to the way we live.

A PLACE IN YOUR HOME

Creating beautiful, functional art is our heart and passion. We are constantly looking for new expressions in the clay. Every single day our artists take these raw elements from deep within the Kentucky earth and form it into something that you want to live with; Something that finds a place in your home and family for years to come.

SPRING

This fresh season is bursting with new life, and an abundance of flavors and colors that provide new inspiration for the summer to come. Fully embrace the season's moments and exciting events with timeless traditions that bring you closer to the ones you love.

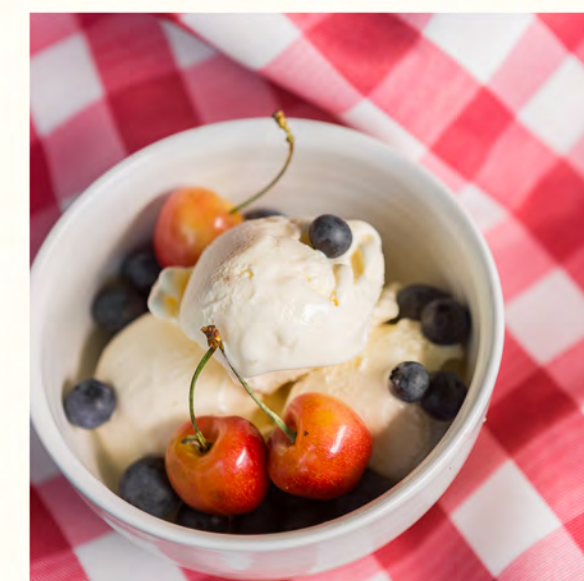

The sun shines bright on my Old Kentucky Home.

FRUITS OF LABOR

Over the past 200 years, experience has made us wiser and our history, richer. However, certain elements will never change.

Our raw clay is mined from the ground 50 miles south of Louisville. We then utilize various processes to achieve a consistency the artists can work with. Once shapes are formed, it can take up to a month before an item is dry enough to be painted, fired and placed on your dinner table.

SUMMER

Family gatherings and cookouts provide all the best flavors that summer has to offer. Stoneware serveware and pie dishes will be right there with you. There is something special about taking a casserole dish that has been in your family for 50 years and serving a meal with it. Every piece carries story after story of not just our history, but of the history of your family. It is for this reason that we work very hard every day to make sure that we put quality products on your table.

THE FACTORY

Stoneware & Co. is a family, craft-based business. It was handed down from generation to generation over thousands of years. We like to think that every piece has been touched by a thousand souls. It's respectful of the past, it's inspired by the past, and that tradition has not changed.

FACTORY TOURS

We invite you to take the time to visit us on location in Louisville, Kentucky to learn more about our century-old ceramic techniques. Take a tour and watch our artisans first-hand. Discover how we create products that are environmentally responsible, resist trends, and stand up to years, even generations of use.

PERSONALIZED

There are a few occasions in life that deserve extra attention, and our artists specialize in making these moments the most memorable.

Our custom, personalized birth plates, wedding plates and child sets are endearingly thoughtful and handcrafted specifically for you and those you love to cherish always.
